

144 adaptable coaching slides

1. A definition of coaching
2. Another definition of coaching
3. Two distinct types of coaching
4. Two ways a coach encourages success
5. Three things needed to prompt learning
6. Three parts to a coaching contract
7. Three specific coaching skills
8. Three keys to effective performance coaching
9. Three things new coached behaviours should do
10. Three things coaching offers
11. Three essentials for coaching
12. Three conditions for successful coaching
13. Three client questions around ethics for a potential coach
14. Three components of compassionate coaching
15. Three levels of coaching
16. Three key roles for a coach
17. Three ways coaching builds performance and potential
18. Three issues underpinning learning
19. Three common coaching misconceptions
20. Three musts for a coach
21. Three guiding principles for successful coaching
22. Three factors that determine the success of executive coaching
23. Three elements to compassionate coaching
24. Three issues coaches of 'A' players must consider
25. Three levels of coaching for a leader-coach
26. Three essentials to gain respect from leaders as a coach
27. Four parts to the 'difficult learning' model

28. Four things being coached involves
29. Four stages of coaching
30. Four types of coaching
31. Four outcomes to seek from coaching
32. Four basic steps to coaching
33. Four parts to the SURE coaching model
34. Four stages of the FIRE coaching model
35. Four types of advice
36. Four components of purposeful coaching practice
37. Four coaching warning signs
38. Four possible outcomes from coaching
39. Four stages of ethical decision making
40. Four ethical essentials for coaches
41. Four skills clusters around ethical coaching behaviours
42. Four sources of ethical coaching dilemmas
43. Four types of coaching managers
44. Four elements to the Benning coaching model
45. Four common objectives of coaching
46. Four parts to the FUEL coaching model
47. Four things a coached person must do
48. Four stages of appreciative enquiry
49. Four rules for the best coaching advice
50. Four ways to coach the alpha male
51. Four reasons managers don't coach
52. Four basic coaching skills
53. Four areas of executive coaching
54. Four types of coaching advice
55. Four questions to prepare for coaching supervision

56. Four more questions to ask before coaching supervision
57. Four stages in embedding new capabilities
58. Four skills clusters around ethical behaviour
59. Four parts to the GROW coaching model
60. Four options for coaching interventions
61. Four ways to coach/manage 'A' players
62. Four coaching considerations
63. Four parts to the RICH neuroscientific coaching model
64. Four warning signs of ineffective coaching
65. Five tips for coaches
66. Five benefits of executive coaching
67. Five ways to be a coach
68. Five features of the 'ideal' coached person
69. Five feelings coached people need
70. Five rules when coaching high performers
71. Five steps to coaching
72. Five parts to the ARROW coaching model
73. Five parts to the SPICE coaching model
74. Five parts to the OSCAR coaching model
75. Five parts to the CIGAR coaching model
76. Five parts to the RACSR coaching model
77. Five parts to the SCARF coaching model
78. Five significant benefits of coaching
79. Five types of coach
80. Five questions a coach supervisor may ask themselves
81. Fives practices likely to cause coaching to fail
82. Five hidden roles for the managerial coach
83. Five signs of a great business coach

84. Five aims of executive coaching
85. Five part coaching framework based on five leadership roles
86. Five factors of goal-focused coaching
87. Five ethical principles for coaches
88. Five ethical questions for coaches
89. Five coaching roles
90. Five indicators of a skilled coach
91. Five things coached people must do
92. Five must haves for coaching
93. Six things coaching is about
94. Six principles for coaches
95. Six questions for coached people
96. Six roles to expect from a coach
97. Six steps to a corporate coaching programme
98. Six things a coach must know
99. Six musts for a coach
100. Six stages to the ACTION coaching model
101. Six benefits of coaching
102. Six stages to coaching programme success
103. Six parts to the John Wooden coaching pyramid
104. Six threads that hold together the John Wooden coaching pyramid
105. Six supervisory domains for coaching
106. Six principles for the leader as coach
107. Seven questions for potential coaches
108. Seven coaching competencies
109. Seven important coaching skills
110. Seven essential coaching behaviours
111. Seven principles when helping people to learn

112. Seven parts to the ACHIEVE coaching model
113. Seven actions of the best coaches
114. Seven essentials for coaches
115. Seven parts to the PRAIRIE coaching model
116. Seven things the best coaches know
117. Seven coaching core competencies
118. Seven parts to the STRETCH model of coaching
119. Seven ethical issues for coaches
120. Seven ways to get value from coaching
121. Seven things a coach and client need to be
122. Seven principles of a coaching supervision mindset
123. Seven expectations of coaching
124. Seven steps in the coaching process
125. Seven ways coaches enhance performance and potential
126. Eight learning skills
127. Eight benefits of external coaches
128. Eight coaching roles
129. Eight effective coaching characteristics
130. Eight roles of a coach
131. Eight benefits from being coached
132. Eight signs of a coach
133. Eight behaviours of the best coaches
134. Eight things coaches do well
135. Eight parts to the OUTCOMES coaching model
136. Nine interpersonal skills for coaches
137. Nine reasons to coach
138. Nine characteristics of a powerful coaching question
139. Nine benefits from coaching

- 140. Nine coaching skills
- 141. Ten coaching myths
- 142. Ten principles of coaching
- 143. Ten essentials to achieve high performance
- 144. Eleven things a coach must be able to do

Andrew Gibbons

www.andrewgibbons.co.uk    andrew@andrewgibbons.co.uk

Phone: 07904 201 474